Authentic Culture

Natchitoches Parish

atchitoches, the original French colony in Louisiana, maintains its European flavor through its architecture, heritage and lifestyle. At the heart of this National Historic Landmark District lies Front Street, a brick thoroughfare where wrought iron balconies, restaurants and shops face the beautiful Cane River Lake.

This area is home to the Cane River National Heritage Area that includes the largest collection of Creole architecture in North America along with the Cane River Creole National Historical Park at Oakland and Magnolia plantations.

Beginning in Natchitoches, the El Camino Real de los Tejas (Highway 6 in Louisiana and Highway 21 in Texas,) has existed for more than 300 years and was designated as a National Historic Trail in 2004.

Plantation Homes

OAKLAND PLANTATION

- Cane River Creole National Historical Park

Oakland has 17 of its original outbuildings still remaining. Outbuildings still on the plantation include two pigeonniers, an overseer's house, massive roofed log corn crib, carriage house, mule barn that was originally a smokehouse, carpenter's shop, and cabins. The historic property is a National Bicentennial Farm, only one of two such Farms west of the Mississippi River, both of which are in Natchitoches Parish. Unit of Cane River Creole National Historical Park. Oakland was acquired by the National Park Service in 1998. Open daily.

(318) 356-8441 • www.nps.gov/cari

MAGNOLIA PLANTATION

The two and one-half story plantation house is one of the largest in the area, with twentyseven rooms, including a Catholic Chapel in which Mass is still celebrated. Betty Hertzog, a descendant of the LeComtes, still lives in the main house. Tours by reservation only. (318) 379-2221 Admission.

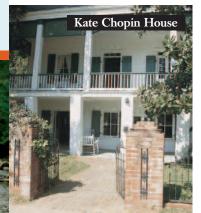

MAGNOLIA PLANTATION COMPLEX

- Cane River Creole National Historical Park

The Magnolia Plantation Complex, 18 acres of outbuildings, is open to the public and free to tour as a unit of Cane River Creole National Historical Park. The Park includes a blacksmith shop, plantation store, gin barn, eight cabins, and former slave hospital that at various times housed the owners and overseer. The gin barn houses a wooden screw-type cotton press, the last such press remaining in its original site in the United States. (318) 356-8441. Open daily with self-guided

KATE CHOPIN HOUSE

Constructed in the early 1800s by Alexis Cloutier, this house was later the home of Kate Chopin, the renowned novelist and author of The Awakening and many Creole stories. The complex includes a restored blacksmith shop, a building that served as a doctor's office, and also houses the Bayou Folk Museum, which features among its contents many agricultural 11 implements. (318) 379-0055 by reservation only.

Plantation Homes

MELROSE PLANTATION

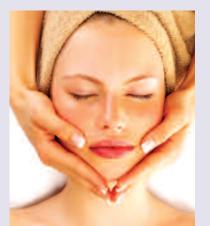

Marie Thérèze Coin-Coin, an enslaved woman, and Claude Thomas Pierre Metoyer, her French owner had many children together. On land acquired by land grants, the Yucca House and the African House was built. The Yucca House remained the large structure on the plantation until 1833 when the main house, known as Melrose, was built.

After 1884, Melrose Plantation became a hub of art and education under the ownership of John Hampton Henry and Miss Cammie Garrett Henry. Miss Cammie, as she became known, made Melrose a haven for artists and writers. At the time there was a field hand and cook at Melrose who also became known as a renowned artist. Clementine Hunter, one of the South's most primitive artists, began painting the people, life, and scenes of Cane River. Hunter was in her 50's when she began painting and continued until a few months before her death in 1988. Clementine is Louisiana's most famous folk artist, and her paintings are on display at the plantation. (318) 379-0055 • Open Tuesday - Sunday. Admission. www.preservenatchitoches.org

Robeline

In 1717, only three years after establishing Natchitoches, St. Denis led a band of missionaries and Spanish soldiers to this site only twelve miles from the French post. His purpose was to initiate trade with the Spanish and fix the border between Mexico and Louisiana at Rio Hondo (Deep Creek).

In 1721 a more substantial fort was constructed on the same site, and Los Adaes, as it was called by the Spanish, was established as the first capital of Spanish Texas. It would remain so for nearly half a century. Los Adaes State Historical Site is maintained at the site today.

Robeline itself was not established until 1881 when the railroad came through. As in the days of the railroads, everyone lived as close to town and the tracks as possible. The village was originally name "Leolia" after the postmaster's daughter.

The village also has a history of rough and rowdy crowds. Once known as "Robbers Lane" the area was full of these types of crowds. Population: 149. Village Hall (318) 472-6121

Downtown Goldonna (318) 727-9200 Seafood, "Boondocks Spud," ℰ "Swamp Bottom Dessert" First occupied by the Indians in the area, the village was the home of salt licks. When the French arrived, they found the Indians drying the salt, and decided they could trade with the Indians. The most prominent of the salt licks, and who the licks are now named after, was Reuben Drake. Drake Salt Works is the site of one of the oldest salt wells in Louisiana. The Indians made use of the wells, and it was a major salt supply for Confederate forces during the War Between the States.

Goldonna became a railroad stop for the Louisiana and Arkansas Railway. After the Great Depression and World War II, the railroad ceased operations. Where the tracks once lay, now lays the L&A Trail, an outdoor recreational trail linking many towns and villages from Winnfield in Winn Parish to Sibley in Webster Parish.

Goldonna was first incorporated July 13, 1898. Population: 417. Mayor's Office (318) 727-4444

Marthaville

The town was first inhabited by the Rains family in 1851, followed by two other families in the next two years. A school was built in 1853, and became the official pride of the town. The first post office opened in 1855, and the town was named Marthaville in honor of Rains' wife.

Confederate troops fought a half-hour long battle in Marthaville under General Green. Marthaville's main economic source is the timber industry. The town was incorporated in 1884.

Campti

ampti is the oldest settlement on the Red River. The first written record of the town's existence was in 1745.

After the "Great Raft", the Red River log jam, Captain Henry Miller Shreve cleared the way for incoming French settlers to prosper on the ideal river banks of Campti. The moving of the dam, however, did not expand the population. Upstream, Shreveport began to grow instead.

 Fall Festival -Third Saturday in November The town of Provencal originated around 1880 while the railroad was under construction. The town originated around 1880 while the railroad was under construction.

The railroad was built by Mr. Thomas Gregory, who owned a camp in the present site of the village. The village grew from a trading post and mercantile business to two hotels, three business houses, a depot, and two saloons.

The village was first incorporated in the 1890's as the Provencal Land Grant Corporation. The village was wiped out on April 13, 1913 by a tornado. What now exists as Provencal is what was built after the tornado. Population: 538. City Hall (318) 472-8767

Fishing

Fishing in Natchitoches Parish is an enjoyable experience with many fishing areas from which to choose. Whether you want to stay close to Natchitoches or venture into the outer lying areas of the parish, there is a place to drop your fishing pole.

This area's wildlife, bird watching, canoeing, and swimming in one of the parish's clear fresh water rivers or slow moving bayous attract campers. Trapping, fishing and hunting are available in the many rivers, streams, bayous and lakes. There are 129,174 acres of Kisatchie National Forest contained in Natchitoches and Winn Parishes.

Fishing and hunting licenses may be purchased at certain retail establishments or parish sheriff's offices.
